

The Arawa Waterpark opens with a splash!

If there is anyone that should know about waterparks, it would be Willy De Cuba of Willy's pool service, and he has put his expertise to good use and opened the Arawa Waterpark in Moko, a fun place for the family to spend their off days.

The official opening took place on Saturday morning, March 25th, with many children in attendance, plus quite a few friends and family to wish Willy and his wife Kitty success in their new venture. An appropriate ribbon cutting, or "breaking" to be more exact was encouraged by little children rushing in to use the new facility, which in its first phase consists of two, water slides, a kiddy pool, play ground and restaurant. There are lockers and changing rooms for the public's convenience, and Willy revealed that within a year or so there will also be a "lazy river" and some big, heart-stopping slides when the park is completed. The plan is for the park to offer annual memberships aside from a daily entrance fee, allowing for unlimited use of the facilities. On Saturday, all were welcomed "on the house," with a welcoming glass of champagne or orange juice, and everyone raised their glass in toast to this new fun activity for the whole family!
